

Bedford Square 6

An anthology

Foreword by

Andrew Motion

New Writing from the Royal Holloway Creative Writing Programme with a Foreword by Andrew Motion.

In 2004 Andrew Motion established a landmark creative writing course at the Royal Holloway, University of London's Bloomsbury location. Along with Costa award-winning poet Jo Shapcott and novelist Susanna Jones, he has discovered and taught some of the best new poets and fiction writers emerging today, with aspiring authors coming from around the world to participate.

In 2011 Ward Wood published the successful 5th edition of this anthology and will now publish Bedford Square 6 which continues our policy of showcasing the writing of the latest poets, novelists and short story writers to graduate.

Compelling, provocative and entertaining, these are some of the brightest and most exciting new voices around.
